Purpose

The following is a record for the justification of a slow-no-wake ordinance in the channels of Tainter Lake (see attached controlled area map). The primary purpose of the ordinance is to ensure the public safety in the channel areas of Tainter Lake in Dunn County, Wisconsin.

Local conditions necessitating the regulation change:

The existing statute restricts boats to slow-no-wake to within 100' of any docks, rafts or piers (see ss. 30.66(3) Wis. Stats.). Because most of the channel areas on Tainter Lake are between 200' to 300' in width, it allows boaters to operate their watercraft at full throttle down the center of the channel.

The channel areas on Tainter Lake are highly populated. Residential lots along this shoreline typically range from between 100' to 150' of channel frontage and high percentages have docks, piers, boathouses or swimming areas. The watercraft using these channels includes both motorized and non-motorized craft e.g. fishing boats, speedboats, pontoons, PWC, canoes, sailboats, kayaks, paddle boats, etc. It is a popular fishing and recreational lake for both residents and non-residents which become apparent with the significant increase in watercraft on weekends and holidays. The narrow width of the channel; the high concentration of shoreline residents and the high volume of watercraft on weekends and holidays make these areas prone to safety issues. The potentially unsafe conditions in these channel areas are substantiated by shoreline residents during local Sportsman and Lake Association meetings.

Ordinance Positive Effects:

- 1) A slow-no-wake ordinance in portions of the channel areas of Tainter Lake would reduce watercraft speeds in these narrow corridors therefore improving the public safety in the channels.
- 2) The buoys authorized by the ordinance would heighten the awareness of boaters in the areas to the relationship of their craft's speed to the public safety in the area.

Ordinance Negative Effects:

- 1) The channel between upper and lower Tainter Lake is lengthy; restricting boat traffic to slow-no-wake for portions of this distance would increase the time it takes to get between the two main areas of the lake.
- 2) In addition to the channel being used as a pathway between the two main areas of the lake, it is also currently used for speed boating and water skiing. Making portions of the channel a slow-no-wake area would restrict these forms of recreation from the channel areas.

Impact on Public Safety if Ordinance is Not Adopted:

Like most lakes in Wisconsin, boat traffic continues to increase on Tainter Lake, as does the number of residences on the shoreline. If the ordinance is not adopted, it is highly unlikely the risk to public safety in these areas will decrease. There is a greater likelihood the risk will increase due to the increasing congestion in these areas.

Summary of Ordinance Opposition:

The opposition to the ordinance seems to be similar to that of local neighborhoods trying to enact slower speed limits on their streets. The residents that live on the street endorse lower speed limits but the nonresidents oppose the inconvenience of the slower speed limit. This seems to be the case with a Tainter Lake slow-no-wake ordinance; most of the support for the ordinance comes from the residents along the channel areas and most of the resistance comes from boaters residing off the channel areas.
